

Quality Excellence Award

WCH recognizes teams for their achievements in quality excellence which supports our mission, vision and values. We are pleased to announce four Awards that recognize excellence at Women's College Hospital. These include:

- 1) The Joan Lesmond Award which recognizes teams that enhance quality at WCH and is based on the belief that by providing inspiration and working together, we can all make a positive impact in healthcare.
 - 2) NEW: Excellence in Collaborative Ambulatory Care which recognizes an individual or team who exemplify excellence in the provision of Collaborative patient centered care and exhibit the values of WCH to improve the quality of care and the patient experience.
 - 3) NEW: Excellence in Collaborative Innovation recognizes a team or individual who have improved patient care through generating new ideas, treatments or approaches to care.
 - 4) NEW: Excellence in Collaborative Leadership/Mentorship recognizes an individual who promotes the development of others through coaching and mentoring within the health care team.
-

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS:

September 14, 2015: Call for submissions for Awards open

October 13, 2015: Submissions for Award due

The award will be presented during patient safety week celebrations (October 26-30)

For Program eligibility, criteria, submission instructions, judging criteria and application form, please visit the Quality page on the WCH intranet.

If there are any questions regarding the award process please do not hesitate to contact Nizar Ladak, Interim Director Integrated Quality, Patient Experience and Health Information Management (Nizar.Ladak@wchospital.ca) or Theresa Kay, Manager, Health Disciplines Professional Practice Leader (Theresa.Kay@wchospital.ca)